Sporting a new paint job and helmet, Team RT Tavi made their season debut at Gingerman this past weekend. Rat Racing was also on the entry list, but failed to show – guess Brian mouthed off to the boss and had to stay home. Apparently this was the first NASA weekend without rain, so all who brought the good weather were invited back next weekend at Grattan (per Ken Owens, Race Co-Chair). Since there was no one to race with this weekend, Lyle took aim at the track record he set last August when we first ran the new long course. Over the course of the weekend, he lowered the record by 1.2 seconds. He also let Julie run the car for Saturday qualifying and the 3rd race on Sunday – seat time prep for the ABJ enduro next month. On to Grattan next weekend where we hope to find Brian, Pete, and Gregg Jr.
